LOCAL ITEMS.

SURETY COURT commences Monday.

Mr. Wm. Beck, living near Old Town, raised a turnip weighing 44 pounds.

We regret to learn that John M. Stafford, Esq., is lying dangerously ill.

New Advertisements.—Tombstones—W. T. Vogler.—Spring Goods—J. L. Fulkerson.

The Young Ladies of the Academy, enjoyed a half-holiday Monday, in honor of the 65th birthday of the President, Rev. M. E. Grunert.

The Streets, for this season of the year, have been very dusty, relieved by the rain on Thursday.

Some of our citizens have been repairing the sidewalk fronting their residences and others would do well to do likewise.

In another column will be found an interesting letter from our Kernersville correspondent.

Mr. L. N. CLARK is making the last call on delinquents for the payment of their corporation taxes.

SAND has been placed upon many portions of the sidewalks where there are no brick, rendering pedestrianism far more agreeable, especially in wet weather.

A FOAL, Esq., of this place, slaughtered one of the pet deer at the Academy Park, Thursday last, which when dressed, netted 93 pounds.

Mr. MORROW'S MILITARY SCHOOL of Winston has procured, as a part of the uniform, a very tasty cap, to which we hope in time can be added an entire outfit.

The interior of the Baptist Church has been greatly improved by the addition of chandeliers and lamps upon front, rear and side walls.

A SUPERIOR MUSIC LECTURE, under the supervision of one of the lady teachers, was a source of amusement to the Young Ladies of Salem Female Academy on Friday evening last.

A LOT OF MACHINERY has been received by Messrs. F. & H. Fries, from Petersburg Va., which will be put in operation at the Old Factory Building, we understand, at an early day.

The EVENING SERVICES at the Baptist Church, will hereafter be governed until further notice is given by the following hours: 1st bell to be rung at 6 o'clock; second at 7, upon Thursday and every second Sunday evening.

Messrs. FRIDEL AND STOCKTON have removed into their new mammoth stone house, and a more handsome and better finished structure is seldom to be met with in towns of Winston's size and population.

Messrs. FOGLE BROS. are repairing their engine, and putting up a new improved fuel boiler, 52 inches in diameter, and some 10 or 12 feet in length. It is far superior to the former ones, both in regard to power and saving of fuel.

LANCE SAW LOGS.—Mr. A. Fogle hauled on Tuesday, to the mill of Messrs. Fogle Bros. a large poplar log from one of the neighboring bottoms, measuring from 3 to 3 1/2 feet in diameter, and some ten or twelve feet in length.

A MURDER of scholars, classmates and friends of the late JESSE ARWOOD, who was formerly a teacher of the Salem Boy's School, have had his remains removed from the Cemetery, and reinterred in the Moravian Graveyard.

In any of the pedestrians who traverse Salt Street should find themselves making a rapid transit to China, it will be when they fall in that ugly hole in the sidewalk just above the Winston District School House. It looks as if it had in that direction.

A LARGE number of prisoners sentenced to a short term of imprisonment will be released from our county jail shortly, having served their time of confinement. More room will thereby be made, and from present indications it will be needed.

On the evening of the 22nd our Cornets were out in full force, rendering some fine selections in honor of the Day. And judging by the crowd that accompanied them from point to point, their services must have been duly appreciated.

Messrs. SPARKS, GLEN AND WATSON addressed the colored citizens of Salem and Winston on Thursday evening, in the Court House, upon the subject of Education. It was well handled by the above gentlemen, and was a subject that should prove of interest to all classes and ages, as a better school system is necessary, especially among our district schools.

Books of the Davidson County Broom Manufacturing, are being received at several of the stores, and have the appearance of good workmanship. But one objection was pointed out to us which shows the proprietors' aversion to printer's ink; having upon each handle a written label, showing that the title of the gentleman is somewhat at fault.

The SOCIAL PARTY given on Wednesday evening last, by the K. of P. was a pleasant and enjoyable occasion. The refreshments were of the best, and several of the young ladies added much to the evening's enjoyment, by the rendition of some fine selections of music, both vocal and instrumental. An address by Mr. Wm. Ormsby, was very appropriate, and reflected much credit upon the orator.

The COLORED BENEVOLENT AID SOCIETY held its meeting on Saturday, at Lewisville, as notified in our last issue. A barbecue for benefit of the Society was given, from which a handsome sum was realized. Addresses were delivered by several colored members present, and a march, the procession being headed by the colored brass band, discoursing "Lewisville March," were also prominent features of the occasion.

Two COLORED MEN, with the aid of two boys, lifted a live porker from the pen of Mr. Sam'l Farabee, in Winston, the other night. Dept. Sheriff Douthitt, assisted by Constable Thos. Plohl, succeeded in capturing the two older parties, together with a colored woman, in whose possession the property was found, and lodged them in jail. The boys succeeded in making their escape. Everybody had better keep a sharp lookout, as the thieving population is on the increase.

The WINSTON FIRE COMPANY held the appointed meeting Saturday night. The Committee appointed to interview the commissioners and property holders, reported that as far as they had as yet learned, all were favorably impressed with the movement, and that the town authorities would meet Monday or Tuesday, and take the matter into consideration, and by the time appointed, for next meeting, which was Wednesday evening, a more definite report would be rendered, both by themselves and the other committees.

PERSONALS.—His Honor, Judge CANNON, paid a flying visit to his two daughters in the S. F. Academy, Saturday, taking his departure on the Monday morning's train. Registered at the Salem Hotel.

Mr. SCOTT, of Greensboro, was registered at the Salem Hotel, the latter part of last week, remaining several days in a visit to his daughter, who is also a pupil of our Female Academy.

Capt. J. R. VOGLER, left for his place of business in New York, on Monday morning.

Mr. E. T. CLEMENS, now living at Asheville, N. C., is registered at the Salem Hotel.

The Ladies' Relief Society disbursed the following amounts for the month of February, 1877:

Meat	$ 5.50
Corn	5.20
Flour	3.45
Clothing	8.63
Medicine	2.60
Sundries	6.20
Total	$ 36.04

Received from a friend $5.00. Any contribution thankfully received.

We are thus encouraged to continue, being assured that many would really have suffered, but for the timely help of those who so kindly put in our power to help the needy.

JOHN WILLIAMS, a young man hailing from Durham, and who was in the employ of Mr. Wesley Kapp, at Kernersville, absconded the other night, taking with him one of Mr. Kapp's horses and a pair of harness. The harness he disposed of before going far, but he succeeded in reaching Hillsboro with the horse.

A telegram sent to Hillsboro had the desired effect, and the thief was apprehended, but not until after he had sold the horse. Mr. Kapp went to Hillsboro, got the horse back, secured Williams and brought him to Kernersville where he was taken before a Magistrate, when he confessed to the theft. He was brought to Winston Monday evening, and lodged in jail to await trial at our next term of Court.

DAVIDSON CORNER FRANK.—A little daughter of Wm. Whitlow was burnt so badly that her recovery is doubtful.

Seed oats scarce.

The Public Schools have nearly all closed. School fever is raging in some portions of the county.

Two of Wm. Bodenhamer's children were buried at Abbott's Creek, on Sunday last.

A thief was frightened away from Mr. Geo. Eller's house a few nights since.

A number of dogs have died with distemper, but there are too many left yet.

The graveyard at St. Vernon Church has been enclosed with a neat paling fence.

We give below a statement of the weather of the following dates, handed us by a subscriber living near Old Town, Forsyth County.

1855, April 16th, at 8 o'clock, P. M., thermometer stood 96 degrees.

1856, January 5th, Snow 18 inches deep. 10th, thermometer, 8 deg below zero. 12th, snow fell 7 inches deep. 20th, " " " " 26th, " " " "

1857, January 18th, snow—average depth 44 inches, drifting to 6 feet in depth. Thermometer 11 degrees at noon.

January 19th, 9 o'clock P. M., 3 degrees below zero.

November 27th, thermometer stood at 14 deg. 1858, February 12th, snow 11 inches deep.

In the early part of March the thermometer indicated a temperature as low as 12 degrees.

The winters of 1858-'59 were mild and wet, the coldest weather about 8 degrees.

1859, June 3rd, from biting the corn, injury not much however.

1863, locust year, and on January 3rd, the mercury fell to 4 degrees.

1864, February 19th, thermometer 6 degrees. " March 17th, " 20 " " 18th, 19th and 20th very cold, and on the 21st, the mercury stood at 34 all day. On the 22nd at 24 throughout the entire day. Snow fell averaging 10 inches in depth, and drifting to four feet. On the 23rd, at 16 degrees; 24th at 12 degrees, and 25th snow again fell.

The above record will perhaps settle some disputes as to the degree of cold and depth of snow in 1856-'57.

This year about the 3rd of January the thermometer indicated about 12° below zero at Old Town, and about 10° at this place.

For the Pass.

On the evening preceding Gen. Stedman's raid on the town of S—, in the State of North Carolina, Mr. E—, who lived near said town, took a notion to "shake the mortal coil." Several neighbors collected at the house, and in a short time after his demise had him comfortably stretched out on a cooling-board. As is usual on such occasions, watchers were appointed, who sat up with the corpse during the night. Next day, while preparations for interment were being made, some one entered the house, and remarked in an excited tone, that the Yankees were coming. Quick as thought, and to the astonishment of all present, Mr. E— raised up, and in a trembling voice asked: "Is their bayonets fixed?" "Yes! Yes!" shrieked the terrified informant, as he bolted for the door.

"Well, then, boys," said Mr. E—, as he rolled off the cooling-board, "I guess we'd better 'light out' from here and postpone the funeral until some other time."

They all eked added, and the next time Mr. E— died he made a finished job of it, and didn't let "fixed bayonets" frighten him to life again.

Winter is coming on, when children are liable to Croup, Whooping Cough, &c. &c. and colds will prevail every where. All consumers of many things, therefore, should not be neglected. Doctor's bills are expensive, and we would advise our people to use Robinson's Great Syrup. It never has failed. One bottle at 75 cents will keep your family well during the winter. Two doses will relieve any case. Sold in all towns in the United States, and by Dr. V. O. THOMPSON, and S. H. SMITH, Druggists, Winston, N. C.

Poetry.

A Prayer for Lent.

"And when he had fasted forty days and forty nights, he was afterwards hungered. And when the tempter came to him, he said, If thou be the Son of God, command that these stones be made bread."

Prayer and fasting, Oh, my Father,
Nearer let me come to Thee;
Let the angels whisper ever
In my ear, O God, I pray.

Ah, my baffled heart has fasted
Till it faints with hungry pain;
Yet if Thou wilt feed me, Father,
All my loss I count as gain.

Humbly let me kneel before Thee,
With affliction crucified;
With my spirit, contrite, broken,
Healed of all its human pride.

Keep my tongue from evil speaking,
Keep my ears from foolish praise;
Keep my heart from Satan's whispers,
Keep my feet in wisdom's ways.

Thou, who seest all my weakness,
Thou, who knowest I am dust,
Pity me, and keep my treasures
Untouched by "mole and rust."

Closer and closer, Oh, my Father,
In the shadow of Thy wing;
Let my weary spirit nestle
With the peace that faith can bring!

Humorous.

Quitting the Jug.—Providence frequently interposes and frightens off a man from hard drinking. It was the case with Billy Booker. He brought a cart load of tobacco to Reidsville the other day, and before starting home he filled his gallon jug and set it in the cart in some hay. He hadn't gone a mile before he kissed the jug, and in so doing, the cart jolted and splashed the liquor on the hay. Billy next lighted his short stem pipe and fang the half burnt match behind him. It caught the hay in a flash. The flames leaped and Billy leaped too, clearing the cart and shouting fire at the top of his voice. But it didn't stop the horse. The horse was alarmed and ran like the devil was after him. As the cart, in full blaze, dashed up hill and down, the people for miles round thought the woods were on fire. When the horse got home the cart was burnt close up to the shafts, and Mrs. Booker and all the children stood at the door and gaped in mortal terror. But William Booker soon arrived with one end of his coat tail burnt off, and to Mrs. Booker's "Sakes alive, William! has the devil had his hand in this?" he told her it was the same as the devil, it was the little brown jug, and he swore to her he would never again carry it to town to be filled. And he never has.

Reidsville Times.

Mr. Sidpox.—When the renowned Mrs. Sidpox was playing in Dublin, she, as Lady Macbeth, came to that part where a drum sounds and she exclaims, "A drum! a drum! Macbeth doth come." There was some difficulty in obtaining the necessary instrument, and so, to her amazement, a trumpet sounded. She immediately saw how absurd it would be to have a "drum," while the well-known sound of the trumpet met the ears of the vast audience, so she said, "A trumpet! a trumpet!" and stopped short and breathless silence, not knowing how to rhyme it, when a voice from the gallery called out, "Macbeth doth stomp it," at which the house broke out into one of laughter and applause, and the tragedienne adjourned to the footlights and bowed her acknowledgments for the relief. She afterwards tried to find out who it was, but failed to do so, and never forgot what she considered the most absurd piece of wit she had ever met with in all her experience.

Hotel Keepers are seldom come up with in financial matters, but the host got the worst of it in the following case. An English gentleman with his wife and six daughters, made a trip to Paris. On arriving at his hotel, he asked for four bedrooms—one for his wife and himself and three for his daughters—adding, "Of course you will not charge the same as if we each took a separate room?" "Mine host" promptly answered that he could not possibly make a difference, he would save nothing by the proposed arrangement and it was his rule, etc. "All right," said the fatherly figure, "Give us eight chambers, then!" The landlord had not counted on being taken so literally at his word, and, thinking discretion the better part of valor, he gracefully retreated from the position he had so hastily assumed, made a fair concession in his terms and the English family took possession of their four rooms.

Judge Davis.—It is related of Judge Davis that in his circuit at Indianapolis a lawyer named Ketchum was ready when his case was called, but his opponent had sent word that he could not arrive for an hour or two. Ketchum insisted on proceeding at once. Judge Davis remonstrated in favor of the absent lawyer, but to no purpose. "Well," said he, finally, "if you insist upon going on, Mr. Ketchum, you have, of course, the technical right to do so; but if I were you I wouldn't urge the matter. Once at Springfield the other day there was just a case. The lawyer would insist upon going on with the trial, and so I had to look after the interests of the other party myself; and do you know, curiously enough, Mr. Ketchum, we both lost!" Mr. Ketchum decided to wait.

People who are resolved to please always at all events, frequently over-throw themselves, and render themselves ridiculous by being too good. A lady going to a friend's house one morning, ran to the carriage to see the fine boy as she came in; unfortunately the car had taken up the baby's place; but before she could give herself time to see her mistake, she exclaimed with uplifted eyes and hands: "Oh, what a lovely child! The very picture of its father!"

"Mightn't that be strange noise at the front gate?" "Cats, cats!" "Cats! Well, when I was young cats didn't wear stovepipe hats and smoke cigars."

Agricultural.

Black or slate-colored pigs are best from skin disease in hot climates.

The store-room for Irish potatoes should be wholesome, dry and freely ventilated.

When a horse of faultless form and sufficient action can be obtained, the heavier he is, the better farm horse he will make.

The turnip should be cultivated in preference to the pumpkin, because an analysis of both, proves the former to contain more nutriment than the latter.

California and Crimson clover can be grown on land in nut grass without any difficulty whatever, because their growth takes place in winter and spring, when the last is comparatively at rest. The clover and nut grass grow at the same season, and the latter would offer strong competition to the former.

The plan of working farms on shares under the present system of labor, is a bad one. If the farmer and his sons can do the greater part of the work with their own hands, and pay the negro laborer his wages in money, when the harvest comes, the proprietor will receive some compensation for his labor and care.

Signs of a Prosperous Farmer.
When you see his barn larger than his house, it shows that he will have large profits and small afflictions.

When you see him driving his work, instead of his work driving him, it shows that he will never be driven from good resolutions, and that he will certainly work his way to prosperity.

When you always see in his woodhouse a sufficiency for three months or more, it shows that he will be a more than ninety-days' wonder, in farming operations, and that he is not sleeping in his house after a drunken frolic.

When he has a house separate from the main building, purposely for ashes, and iron or tin vessel to transport them, it shows that he never built his dwelling to be a funeral pile for his family, and perhaps himself.

When his farming implements are covered both in winter and summer, it plainly shows that he will have a good house over his head in the summer of early life and the winter of old age.

When his cattle are properly shodded and fed in winter, it evidences that he is acting according to Scripture, which says that "a merciful man is merciful to his beast."

When he is seen subscribing for a newspaper and paying in advance, it shows that he is speaking like a book respecting the latest improvements in agriculture, and that he never gets his walking papers to the land of poverty.

Pant Orchards.

There are two strong reasons why land owners should seize the present time to plant largely. The prices of trees have fallen, and many sorts may be had at greatly reduced rates, especially if purchased in wholesale quantities. Secondly, a much better selection may be now made, because nursery men have made small sales, and they have large quantities of excellent growth remaining on hand. Taking the good quality of the trees and the low prices together, the same money will now make twice as large purchases as a few years ago. There is still another reason for buying now. The large stock of fine trees now for sale, if not disposed of, will soon be too large for removal and transplanting; and they will become a dead loss, will prevent nursery men from planting young stock, and in a few years trees will again be scarce, with augmented rates. Those who now procure trees will then be looked upon as fortunate from the forethought which they have shown in procuring fine orchards at moderate prices. —Country Gentleman.

Purifying Rancid Butter.

A correspondent of the Country Gentleman gives a recipe in that paper for restoring rancid butter to its original flavor. We do not believe it can be done. Undoubtedly the rancidity may be removed, but the original flavor, if it was a good one, can not be restored to it after it is destroyed, any more than life can be restored to a dead body. But here is the recipe: "To one quart of water add fifty-five drops of the liquor of chloride of lime; then wash thoroughly in this mixture five pounds of rancid butter. It must remain in the mixture two hours. Then wash twice in pure water, and once in sweet milk; add salt. This preparation of lime contains nothing injurious. Chloride of lime has nearly as disagreeable an odor as rancid butter, besides being much more powerful.

Cut this Out.

Every person should know how to treat a flesh wound. Every one is liable to be placed in circumstances away from surgical and veterinary aid, where he may have to save his own life, the life of a friend or a beast, supply from the use of a little common sense. In the first place, close the lips of the wound with the hands and hold them firmly together to check the flow of blood until several stitches can be taken and a bandage applied. Then bathe the wound for a long time in cold water. "Should it be painful," a correspondent says, "take a handful of burning coals and sprinkle upon them common brown sugar, and hold the wound in the smoke. In a minute or two the pain will be allayed, and the recovery proceeds rapidly. In my case a rusty nail had made a bad wound in my foot. The pain and nervous irritation were very severe. This was removed by holding it in the smoke fifteen minutes, and I was able to resume reading in comfort. We have often recommended it to others with like result.
